WARRANTIES: All warranties are provided by the manufacturer, not by us. Warranties vary from one manufacturer to another, as well as within a manufacturer, for different items. This will make it much easier, and faster later, for us to deal with the user, as well as the manufacturer, to follow up on warranties. If you require a warranty to be honored, you should call us first. We will either take care of it ourselves or direct you to the proper contacts or manufacturers.
COPYRIGHTS: All drawing literature were drafted by our own salaried employees, at our own and sole expense. No drawings are copied from anyone else. All of our information was gathered by our own efforts and investment, investigated and evaluated by us, before it was put into all of our catalogs at our own and sole expense. We are using our own style, presentation, columns, layout and descriptions. We are assigning our own illustration keys and reference letters and numbers to replacement parts. Our efforts are tremendous. Naturally we claim the copyrights to all of our catalogs, from #300 to this current one, if specifically noted in them or not specifically noted in them. When someone copies our drawings it is assumed that he does not want to spend the money or hire skilled personnel, but wants others to carry this expense. Anyone in a position to distribute catalogs must know this. Some drawings have built-in errors for us to identify if these drawings are copied. Others are non-existent items with fictional specifications. Still, others are valid item, but have unneeded or fictional information to help us to identify which are copies. Reproduction of any kind, in part, whole, altered, added, shaded, distorted, upside down, turned, in reverse, compressed, expanded, larger, smaller, in any size, whatsoever, or any use of this material or numbers, for the purpose of selling goods, for profit or not, will be prosecuted to the fullest.
